3. Though the Head of the Office is the authority who can sanction or withhold the periodical increments claimed by officials working under him, it has been noticed in several cases that such claims on behalf of officials working in taluks are being usually submitted to and decided by the Deputy Commissioners concerned. As Assistant Commissioners in charge of Sub-Divisions have now been empowered to exercise most of the powers of Deputy Commissioners and as the reference of applications for increments to taluk officials to Deputy Commissioners is calculated to cause delay and unnecessary increase of work, the Revenue Commissioner directs that Sub-Division Officers may, in future, dispose of claims for such increments to officials of taluks subordinate to them.

A. RANGASWAMI IYENGAR,
Revenue Commissioner.
